

Reverend Martin Luther King died 40 years ago (yesterday, 04-04-68), authored by inventor Woodrow Marshall Riley to Awaken those still asleep.

Why did he have to live a life that was to bring his death? Well, a lot of you don't know this but the brake and connection systems on 19th Century railroad locomotives and the cars they pulled was completed ~in large or all~ by Black inventors. Their names can be found by a Google or Yahoo search or the archives of some Black universities. Had those Black inventors not fixed the railroad's shortcomings we would have lost the first World War because it was those fixed trains that carried in new troops from all over the country over to the East and its ships to go fight off world powers and Hitler's Germany.

I have made claims in many newpath4 webpages and posts stating how we today are living in an artificial timeline because my inventions have been suppressed and my doctors didn't treat me, which held my health down and d^mn near killed me many times to execute a sinister purpose => of keeping my discoveries suppressed so they could dole my discoveries out to you in the future at their leisure (and discretion, or not at all in the case you're no longer around). Maybe the plan is to kill a lot more people than me, ever think of that? Whether through World Poverty-caused Sickness and Death or lacking Healthcare, being made dead serves to reduce the numbers of people somebody just plain doesn't want around.

It was already being done to the Black Race long before I was born in 1951, which is all historical fact not me making "paranoid delusional rants". Had those Black inventors received full credit for their awesome discoveries it would have lifted them up naturally and a Dr. King sacrifice would never been needed more than likely, although it should be very quickly added that when Dr. King did come along in the course of Time, his life would have likely been the same productive life he had, just that he would have springboarded off a higher diving board. Suppressing new inventions then is seen better as a subset of suppressing all men and all women, throwing cold molasses & sweat on their lives, jobs, employment, futures, children til the majority of us dies an unfulfilled empty death short of realizing our own Martin Luther King size dreams.

Who is it among us that has such a satanic agenda as to think he or they have the intelligence to withhold Race credit and Race Economic Furtherance from Black inventors? Is it "Whitey" (White Caucasians controlling the "system")? White caucasians is the easy answer. I'm 25% Native American. Does Whitey hate my small amount of American Indian blood like it hated the Black Africans they forced into Slavery? That just isn't likely but they do want to do the same number on me as they did to those Black inventors because they don't like my JW religious beliefs? Fear the straight Word of God minus men's footnotes?

Let's be fair. It isn't all whiteys who feel that way. In fact, the majority of "White America" had NOTHING TO DO WITH BLACK INVENTOR'S SUPPRESSION, so that narrows the field considerably. Could it be just a small misguided band of whites or secret league of international politicians? There isn't any reason to go there when it has been falling on us like a paint bucket well over a hundred years.

However, since it is my firm belief the whole operation has been run by an invisible angel called Satan the Devil who can mess us up from generation to the next & next generations, getting smarter & smarter, has been the main villain in human history, not any specific pawn group(s) that happen to also be pretty smart. And that's why I don't strap on a vest or take sniper lessons. Us running around killing each other with horrible new weapons of mass destruction is exactly what that one wants, and I refuse to give it to him.

So did Jesus of Nazareth.
So did Martin Luther King.
So did Mahatma Gandhi.

He walked out on that balcony because he knew what he was up against and it was not just one man. Dr. King knew he was standing against a Devil who could choose from thousands of trained assassins. To those people who have interfered with our future before -now in ignorance continuing yet doing so- I strongly urge them to read and take to heart every word -and warning- where their actions are taking them, found in the 10th chapter of the Bible book of Hebrews.

The only way to defeat this evil one's process is turning to God in faith, trusting in him that He will soon move to restore our real timeline. The fact that leukemia specialists working beside my 28YO son for 9 months did not do a thing and William died in 2006 of LEUKEMIA has told me this Satan wanted to threaten me with death just like he did Martin Luther King and I have not stopped writing since nor inventing. Doctors continued to ignore me too. I was hit with an awesome cancer in 2006, afterward followed up by a Borelli attack (Lyme's Disease bacteria) that proliferated into my nervous system that began overriding the signals from my brain to my heart and lungs and I still didn't stop.

The pattern Satan uses to stop inventors he doesn't like notwithstanding.

I'll ride this train to the end holding hands proudly with Blacks til I see that restored timeline coming over that mountain.

You can take that to the bank. The "heart of the beast" is in more than just my engines. It was in those men and some might think it's also inside me. I kind of like riding this train.

Further reading about how my engines work + a few thoughts?
