Denying it doesn't make knowledge go away, nor who brought it.

I am not the only one standing in quicksand. Some months ago I was writing when I felt a wave of Energy pass through my body. It was headed from East to West, a rolling wave traveling through the ground. I thought it was headed for California. After that was when the non-stop earthquakes started up in Reno Nevada. All hell has been breaking loose since then all over the World. Intelligent men would have started building my engines.

They didn't... except for the ones they could use to kill and make war, some for crowd control. So now the Yellowstone caldera has begun readying itself for the next step in ridding this planet of its oppressors: us. We are making all the wrong moves. You might want to hope Obama is smart enough to think like Moses and do his work in God's Name... which he might would do if he hadn't sat like a stone in the wrong church for 20 years thinking all churches have God's Favor no matter what they teach parishioners. They do not.

Our world is growing earthquakes 6.0-8.0 =>
